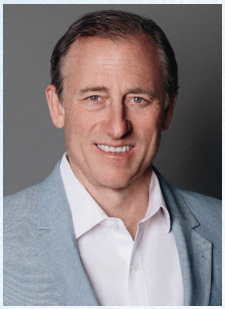
MANAGING PARTNERS

MANAGING PARTNERS



JOSH HARRIS

Managing Partner

Josh Harris is the Managing Partner of the Philadelphia 76ers. Josh's family history in Philadelphia is deeply rooted—all four of his great-grandparents settled there, each of his four grandparents lived in the city and his parents met there. Following in his father's footsteps, Josh attended the University of Pennsylvania, witnessing the iconic 76ers championship in 1983 during his time there.

Under the leadership of Josh Harris and David Blitzer, the 76ers have grown to be one of the NBA's 10 most valuable franchises (Forbes) and have quickly emerged as one of the fastest-growing global sports brands. The team has widened its portfolio through a variety of organizations and initiatives.

Josh and the 76ers are active in the Philadelphia and South Jersey communities through charitable giving and partnerships with hospitals, youth centers, schools and food distribution centers. In 2015, the Sixers Youth Foundation was established to focus on youth development across the Delaware Valley. In 2025, Josh saw the Sixers Youth Foundation raise $2 million for the youth of Philadelphia, Camden and the Greater Delaware Valley, the most ever in the Gala's seven years. In 2016, the team unveiled a new $86 million training complex in Camden, New Jersey. The project not only created a new world-class and innovative practice facility for the team but demonstrates the team's commitment to the area and its revitalization along the waterfront.

Josh is the Co-founder of Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment (HBSE), a leading sports and entertainment platform which includes the Philadelphia 76ers, among other marquee assets.

In 2022, Josh founded 26North, a next-generation alternatives platform that invests across a variety of strategies, including Private Equity, Credit, and Insurance solutions.

Prior to 26North, he co-founded Apollo Global Management, and spent over 30 years building the firm into a leading global alternative investment manager and one of the largest alternative credit managers.

Across his platform – including through his foundation, Harris Philanthropies – Josh is committed to using a blend of philanthropic giving and impact investment to improve outcomes for underserved groups in communities where he has a deep connection. Specifically, Josh is focused on supporting vulnerable youth through sports and educational programming, championing equity and sustainable wealth creation in diverse communities and enhancing health, wellness and educational outcomes. Josh and Marjorie Harris were recently named to the inaugural TIME100 Philanthropy 2025 list, a list of the 100 most influential people shaping the future of giving at a pivotal moment.

Josh serves on the Boards of Harvard Business School, the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania, the NBA, the NFL and the NHL. He holds an MBA from Harvard Business School, where he was named a Baker Loeb Scholar, and graduated summa cum laude from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business with a B.S. in Economics. He and his wife Marjorie have five children.

DARYL MOREY

President of Basketball Operations

Daryl Morey is set to begin his sixth season as President of Basketball Operations for the Philadelphia 76ers. Named the franchise's President of Basketball Operations on Nov. 2, 2020, Morey oversees all areas of the 76ers basketball operations department.

Since his arrival to the organization, Morey's 76ers teams have qualified for the postseason on four occasions. Morey guided the 76ers to wins in more than 65% of their games through his first three seasons at the helm, good for the best mark in franchise history. The 76ers have enjoyed tremendous draft success under Morey's leadership, including the selections of Tyrese Maxey (No. 21 overall in 2020) and Jared McCain (No. 16 overall in 2024). Morey also added Adem Bona (No. 41 overall) in the second round of last year's draft, before acquiring Justin Edwards as an undrafted free agent.

Overall, Morey's NBA career includes 18 seasons as the lead decision maker between Houston and Philadelphia, compiling an 865-575 record (.601). Among executives with at least 1,000 games of experience, Morey's record stands as the fifth-best in league history; a top-five that also includes the likes of R.C. Buford and Jerry West. Between 2007-25, Morey's teams finished the campaign above .500 on 17 occasions, winning 50-plus games nine times and qualifying for the postseason 14 times. Morey joined the 76ers after 14 seasons with the Houston Rockets, 13 of which were spent as general manager. With Morey as general manager, Houston compiled a 640-400 (.615) record, the second-best of any NBA team during that span. The Rockets' eight straight playoff appearances (2013-2020), including multiple trips to the Western Conference Finals, also represented the longest streak in the NBA. In 2017-18, Morey earned Executive of the Year honors following a franchise best 65-17 regular season.

Prior to joining the Rockets as assistant general manager in 2006, Morey served three years as Sr. Vice President of Operations for the Boston Celtics.

Originally from Ohio, Morey is a graduate of Northwestern University and also holds an MBA from MIT where he serves as the co-chair of the school's annual Sports Analytics Conference.

ELTON BRAND

General Manager

Elton Brand enters his eighth season as General Manager of the Philadelphia 76ers in 2025-26. During Brand's tenure as general manager, the 76ers rank top five in the NBA with 319 wins, having qualified for the postseason six times in seven years.

Over his tenure, Brand has helped reshape the 76ers roster, most recently aiding in the team's draft selections of VJ Edgecombe (No. 3 overall) in 2025 and Jared McCain (No. 16 overall) in 2024. Brand became the franchise's general manager prior to the 2018-19 campaign, a season in which the 76ers won 51 games. That marked the first of three 50-win seasons over Brand's first five years as GM, good for the second-most of any NBA team throughout that stretch.

In 2022-23, the 76ers compiled a 54-28 record (.659), the franchise's best mark since the 2000-01 season. Seven-time All-Star Joel Embiid earned his second consecutive scoring title (33.1) en route to winning the NBA's Most Valuable Player Award, the franchise's first such honor since Hall of Famer Allen Iverson in 2000-01. Under Brand's guidance, the 2021-22 76ers finished the regular season 51-31, in fourth place in the Eastern Conference. In 2020-21, Brand played a key role in constructing a roster that posted the 76ers' best record in 20 seasons, earning the No. 1 seed in the Eastern Conference playoffs.

Brand's success as general manager comes following a 17-year playing career, during which he spent parts of five seasons playing for the 76ers. Prior to assuming the GM role with the 76ers, Brand spent the 2017-18 season in the same capacity with the Delaware Blue Coats, a role in which he oversaw all personnel moves related to the 76ers G League franchise. Following his retirement from the NBA, Brand spent the 2016-17 season with the 76ers as a player development consultant. Overall, Brand played in 1,058 NBA contests (868 starts) over 17 seasons with Chicago, the Clippers, Philadelphia, Dallas and Atlanta, making two All-Star appearances (2002 and 2006). He posted averages of 15.9 points, 8.5 rebounds, 2.1 assists and 1.7 blocks per game, while shooting .500 percent from the field and .736 percent from the free-throw line in 33.0 minutes per game. His 1,828 blocks place him 22nd all-time in NBA history.

In addition to his role within 76ers basketball operations, Brand is an active community ambassador, serving on the boards of both the Sixers Youth Foundation and Philadelphia Film Society. He sponsors young people through the Urban Affairs Coalition's Summer Youth Employment Program, which provides paid summer job opportunities and support to youth ages 14-18. The six-week program includes career exposure, on-the-job mentoring and professional development. Brand recently completed the High-Potential Leaders program at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, where he worked closely with Wharton's leadership experts and other high potentials from around the world in a dynamic, interactive environment. In addition to his studies at Duke and UPenn, Brand also studied institutional and environmental racism at Philadelphia's Lincoln University in 2015.

NICK NURSE

Head Coach

Hired by the Philadelphia 76ers on June 1, 2023 as the 26th head coach in the franchise's rich history, Nick Nurse's basketball journey can be measured in miles and milestones: from the British Basketball League to NBA Champion; from the Rio Grande Valley of the G League to the Olympics; from the youngest college coach in the United States to the NBA's Coach of the Year. He is intrigued by innovation and improvisation in sports, books, and in his other great love, music. Both on and off the basketball court, he is inspired by legendary coaches like Phil Jackson and renowned musicians like jazz master Thelonious Monk. Nurse is a life-long learner who graduated in 2022 from Concordia University Chicago with a PhD in philosophy, with an emphasis in sports leadership. In his 40s, Nurse took up several musical instruments, and is currently working on improving his piano and guitar skills. A native of Carroll, Iowa, Nurse played basketball at and graduated from the University of Northern Iowa, and then began his coaching career at age 23, when he became the head coach of Grand View College in Des Moines. He moved to Europe in 1996 to follow his hoop dreams, and stayed there for 11 years, winning nine championships while in the British Basketball League. His time in the NBA's D League – now known as the G League – with the Iowa Energy and Rio Grande Valley Vipers taught him that the ability to improvise is something that a basketball coach can use, just like a jazz pianist. Despite ever-shifting lineups and challenging situations, Nurse was both a G League champion and G League Coach of the Year in 2011. Nurse joined the Raptors in 2013 as an assistant coach and took over as the franchise's head coach of in June 2018. That first season, one day short of his one-year anniversary at the helm, he became the ninth rookie head coach in NBA history to win a league championship in their first year. The following year, Nurse was named NBA Coach of the Year, an award presented to him while in the NBA's "Bubble" – coaching under the most unusual circumstances while the world grappled with a global pandemic. On the international stage, Nurse coached Great Brittain's men's senior basketball team when it hosted the 2012 London Olympics, and served as head coach of the Canadian Senior Men's basketball team from June 2019 to June 2023. Nurse lives in Media, PA with his wife, Roberta. He has three sons: Noah, Leo, and Rocky. He carries his guitar on the road, and is a lifelong fan of Prince, the Chicago Cubs, and the L.A. Rams. In 2020, he started the Nick Nurse Foundation, which aims to improve the lives of young people through literacy, sports, and music. The foundation provides mentoring, instruments, and opportunity so youth from underrepresented communities can flourish on the court, the stage, or in whatever path they choose for themselves. "Let's help the kids see a brighter future. Let's give them a more positive self-image. Let's give them opportunities they may not have had, whether it's books or basketballs or basketball shoes or instruments or lessons or getting them part of a band or taking them out onstage in front of somebody to lift their self-image - or any strands of all those things where they may be able to see a career or a future," Nurse says. "And we just want to do that to the best of our ability with the foundation."

HARRIS BLITZER SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT LEADERSHIP

TAD BROWN

Chief Executive Officer, Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment

As CEO of the Philadelphia 76ers and Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment (HBSE), Tad Brown oversees one of the largest and most impactful sports and entertainment portfolios in the world. Since joining the organization in 2021, Brown has solidified the 76ers as one of the top businesses in the NBA by helping construct landmark deals that significantly strengthen HBSE's presence in Philadelphia for generations to come.

Over the past year, HBSE and the 76ers announced several partnerships that will help shape the future of sports and live events in the City of Brotherly Love. Last January, HBSE and Comcast announced plans to build a new arena in South Philadelphia in 2030 that will serve as home to the Philadelphia 76ers and Philadelphia Flyers, as well as the world's top concerts and touring events. As part of this agreement, HBSE and Comcast also unveiled plans to support the revitalization of a critical corridor of Center City by investing in mixed-used development at East Market Street. The momentum and excitement generated by these announcements continued in June when HBSE was awarded a WNBA franchise to bring women's professional basketball to the city in 2030.

At Brown's leadership, two other critical naming rights partnerships were also finalized – the 76ers welcomed Penn Medicine as the naming rights partner of its Training Complex in Camden, N.J., while the team joined Comcast and Comcast Spectacor in reaching an agreement to relaunch the team's current home as Xfinity Mobile Arena.

Beyond Philadelphia, Brown has prioritized leveraging the power of the HBSE portfolio to reach new markets. This includes launching first-of-its-kind global sponsorships with iconic brands such as Campbell's, enabling partners to amplify their reach by activating across a variety of HBSE properties, including the NBA, NHL, NFL, and NASCAR. Additionally, the 76ers will play their first two pre-season games in Abu Dhabi this October, introducing the storied franchise to new fans and partners.

Off the court, Brown has spearheaded efforts to ensure HBSE teams positively impact the communities they serve. Last season, the 76ers reached more than 35,000 community members across nearly 170 events across the Greater Philadelphia Area. Meanwhile, Brown served as a board member for the Sixers Youth Foundation, which raised $2 million at its annual gala to support youth-based sports and educational programming throughout the region.

Prior to joining HBSE, Brown spent nearly two decades with the Houston Rockets, Toyota Center, and Clutch City Sports and Entertainment, 15 of which were spent as CEO. In his role in Houston, he was a member of the NBA's Board of Governors, served as the representative to the Executive Committee, and served on the league's Media Committee. Over his tenure, Brown helped position the Rockets as one of the NBA's premier global franchises, as well as a cornerstone of the Houston community. In 2017, Brown orchestrated the sale of the Rockets by Leslie Alexander to Tilman Fertitta for a then-NBA and global sports franchise record $2.2 billion.

This is done through investments in organizations that serve young people across three core focus areas: Academic Enrichment, Access to Quality Play and Safe Play Spaces.

WILT CHAMBERLAIN MEMORIAL FUND

These areas allow us to invest in the building blocks of success from childhood to adulthood. CLUB NICKNAME

The late Walter Stahlberg, of West Collingswood, New Jersey, won a contest to name the club in 1963. The choice of the club's nickname was announced on Aug. 6, 1963. There were almost 500 different suggestions among the entries and Stahlberg was one of several who picked the 76ers. However his accompanying 25-word explanation was deemed the best by the judges, and he and his wife received an all-expense trip to the West Coast to see the 76ers play San Francisco.

76ERS UNIFORM HISTORY

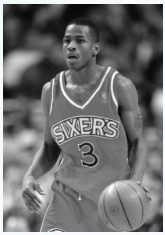
1997-2009



1994-1997

1991-1994

2017-PRESENT: 2017 brought on an updated look for the Philadelphia 76ers, with the unveiling of the team's new Icon Edition (Blue), Association Edition (White), Statement Edition (Red) uniforms. The new Icon and Association uniforms introduced a hard-red drop-shadow behind the iconic "PHILA" lettering and player numbers. The new designs also include the words "Brotherly Love" embroidered in gold on the bottom of each jersey, drawing inspiration from the Greek translation for "Philadelphia." The Statement uniform displays "Sixers" in cursive across the uniform's chest plate. The cursive writing serves as a salute to the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

2015-2017: On June 18, 2015, the Sixers revealed new home (white), road (blue) and alternate (red) uniforms which were designed using elements from different eras in franchise history. "PHILA" is emblazoned across the chest of the home and road jerseys as a homage to the 1966-67 Championship team. The alternate red jersey has "SIXERS" sprawled across the front, to honor the 1982-83 Championship team. All three uniforms are decorated with a column of stars down each side in the fashion of the 1976-77 uniforms. Each jersey also has the phrase "PHILA TOUGH" sewn into the waist-level hem, visible only to the players prior to being tucked in 2009-2015: Prior to the 2009-10 season, the Sixers re-designed their uniform to feature the team's new primary "76ers basketball" logo with the red, white and blue color scheme. Trimmed in blue and red, the team will wear white uniforms with blue lettering and red numbers at home. On the road, the team will wear red uniforms, trimmed with blue and white, that feature white lettering and numbers. In the summer of 2010, the uniforms underwent some minor revisions, including blue piping added around the neck and shoulders among other aesthetic details. The Sixers also debuted an alternate blue uniform in the 2012-13 season opener.

2007-2009: Both the Sixers home and road jerseys underwent a bit of a facelift in the summer of 2007. Influenced by the secondary red road uniform, which was introduced the previous season, the home and road designs featured a refined red taping stretching from the jersey to the shorts. The material itself was also completely overhauled, as the new fabric was Adidas clima-cool flatback mesh on the front with open-holed metallic stretchair fabrication on the back and in key venting zones through the front of the shoulders.

2007-2009: During the 2006-07 season, the 76ers unveiled a new second road uniform with red as the predominant color accented by the team's other official colors of white, blue, black, silver and gold. Produced by Adidas, the jerseys featured a new "PHILA" wordmark across the front in a design similar to the team's primary logo, as well as blue and white striping around the V-neck. The red shorts are adorned with the Sixers secondary logo above a blue accent on the side of the left leg.

1999-2006: Philadelphia added a new second road uniform during the 1999-00 season. The blue jersey sports a stylish new cut that's full of tradition from the great Sixers teams of the 1960's and 1970's. Trimmed in red and black, the jersey featured the "SIXERS" wordmark on the front with white numbers trimmed in red.

1997-2007: Prior to the 1997-98 season, the Sixers unveiled a completely new look including the first major logo change since becoming the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1963. In keeping with the traditional red and blue, the logo was "modernized" by adding silver, gold and black. For the first time in franchise history, the Sixers wore black uniforms on the road. Trimmed in red and gold, the jersey that features the word "SIXERS" on the front with white numbers trimmed in red on the back. At home, a white jersey features black numbers trimmed in red.

1994-1997: This uniform was actually a throwback to the classic Sixers look. Designed by Lucy Loeb, the front featured

"SIXERS" in a more ornate block lettering. This garb was white with red and blue trim at home and red with white and blue trim on the road.

1991–94: The Sixers uniform was redesigned by Champion Products and was a departure from the classic Sixers uniform. The design featured multicolored stars against a royal blue field that curved up from shorts to the jersey. The background of the away uniform remained red.

1978–91: The NBA begins to regulate uniform changes more closely. A rule is installed by the league requiring teams to use an exclusive outfitter and alert the NBA one year in advance of a design change. This uniform becomes the Sixers' hallmark, with the numeral surrounded by stars on the shorts. The road color returned to red. The uniforms were manufactured first by Wilson, then by Sand Knit. The 76ers played more games in this uniform (1,066) than any other in the history of the franchise.

1977–1978: The lettering on the jersey was readjusted, with home uniforms lettered in blue and outlined in white and red, while away uniforms were royal blue with white lettering in red trim.

1976-1977: Another one-shot uniform surfaced, this time with a theme. In honor of the Bicentennial, the team turned to the cursive lettering and trim numerals of the 1970-71 season. The new uniforms were designed by Pat Williams, Al Domenico, Billy Cunningham and Sonder Levitt Advertising.

1971-76: SonderLevitt Advertising designed a uniform that had a much longer lifespan than its predecessor. With the new art deco-like lettering, the uniforms retained the star-inset blue side stripe, a graphic element that remained a feature through the 70's. Away uniforms were royal blue with white side stripes and stars.

1970-71: With its red-in-blue and cursive lettering, the Sixers next official home uniform (the old red garb was retained for away games), did not please Sixers suppliers. Midseason trades meant impossible turnaround times for these custom-sewn, flowing script uniforms. In the middle of the season a switch is made and "Seventy Sixers", in script, replaces "PHILA" on the front of the uniform.

1966-70: The Sixers went to the straightforward look during their first championship run. Simple block letters with the traditional "PHILA" on the front replaced the star-spangled banner look. Road uniforms became red with blue lettering and white trim.

1965-66: A two-tone uniform with a high waistband and long, baggy trunks was introduced. The players considered it flashy and uncomfortable to play in and it was abandoned after one season.

1963-65: The Sixers opened their run in Philadelphia with a Betsy Ross-inspired uniform (below). Adorned with a circle of stars on both the shorts and the back of the jersey surrounding the player's number, the stars quickly became a hallmark of the Sixers uniforms. The road uniform was dark blue with red lettering and numbers. Midway through the '64-65 season, the style of the letters and numbers was changed.

 Early draft records are incomplete, so until 1956 players are listed alphabetically.*

Beginning in 1957, the draft is recorded round-by-round. To enable teams to take advantage of the regional popularity of college stars, they were given the option of forfeiting their first-round pick and instead selecting, before the start of the draft, a player from the franchise's immediate georgraphical area. These "territorial picks," as they were know, are not factored in to the overall selection count of the draft. The territorial option was in effect through 1965.

PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

* Denotes that a player played for more than one team during that particular season and the team-by-team breakdown was not available. Each respective stat line is reflective of the entire season's statistics, which also affects the player's total stat lines.

(n) Denotes years played in the NBL with Syracuse, before the Nationals joined the NBA in 1949-50. NBL statistics are factored in to individual NBA totals, but do not affect team statistics/records.
